Guides are put through one of the most comprehensive training programs in the country: a 30-hour certification, in which they are taught local history and are mentored by veteran guides. RSVP for the information session is required by Monday, and can be submitted online via Eventbrite.com. Search "Vizcaya Volunteer Guide Information Session."

HOMESTEAD: ECO FAIR AT LOSNER PARK

The third annual Homestead Eco Fair takes place noon to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 11, at Losner Park, 104 N. Krome Ave.

Visitors can interact with live animals, try local organic foods, enjoy live music and performances and board the Homestead National Parks Trolley for a free ranger-guided tour. The local improv group Front Yard Theatre Collective will present interactive, eco-themed performances, and the Homestead City Ballet will perform, as well. Empress Addi & Friends, a South Florida Jazz group will be playing live. There will also be local food trucks offering a variety of cuisines, along with a farmer's market showcasing organic local produce.

The Kiwanis Club will distribute free children's books as part of their "Just One Book" program, and Miami-Dade County residents can exchange three old lightbulbs for compact fluorescent bulbs or up to two water-wasting showerheads for more efficient models, all free of charge.

MIAMI: RESERVE NOW FOR ORLANDO TOUR

Registration is open for a tour April 25-27 of Orlando that includes the Holy Land Experience, the Wells' Built Museum of African-American History and Culture and Bok Tower Gardens.

The tour costs $275, including bus transportation from Miami to Orlando, hotel, meals and theme park admissions. Reservations must be made by Feb. 12. For information, contact Dorothy Heard at 305-965-8205 or dhppig@att.com.
